School Official Protects Negroes From Attack

OZARK, Ark. (AP)—A Negro student at Ozark High School said today that she and two other Negro girls were told not to return to classes after 10 white boys and girls tried to attack them during the lunch hour Tuesday.

The three girls were the only Negroes in the school, which has about 400 white pupils.

Ivy West, a 14-year-old freshman, said School Superintendent R. L. Graves gave the order after he was pushed and shoved while protecting the Negro students from the attackers.

Graves refused to discuss the incident.

"Mr. Graves told us we shouldn't come back because he couldn't protect us," Miss West said.

She said the superintendent called the three Negroes into his office Tuesday after a rumor circulated that a white gang was "going to get them" at the noon hour.

"They'd been threatening to get us for several days," Miss West said, "and we were afraid."

"The white students tried to come in the office to get us, but Mr. Graves blocked the door. They pushed and shoved him trying to get by but he managed to keep them out."

WONT NAME KIDS

She said there were six girls and four boys in the attacking group. She declined to identify them.

"Now we're waiting for the school board to tell us what to do next."

Ozark has no Negro high school. Negro students, until last year, were sent to schools in nearby counties.

Ozark initiated a voluntary plan of integration last fall but it was suspended two days after the term opened because of resistance by white students.

In Madisonville, Ky., three Negro students walked quietly into Pride elementary school today while a crowd of about 100 watched from across the road.

Six state troopers and two deputy sheriffs watched close by. No federal deputy marshals were seen.

The developments were quietest Wednesday, when some 300 persons gathered at the school and attempted to keep four Negroes from entering.

Only three Negro youngsters showed up. The fourth, who broke away during the confusion Wednesday, did not return.

Portable Farm A-Plants Forecast

By DAVE OANCIA

Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL (CP)—Portable atomic power plants were described today as a possible solution to the problem of supplying the power needs of Canadian farms.

In a paper submitted to the World Power Conference, two Ontario College of Agriculture scientists said more extensive electrification of agricultural operations may become feasible by the use of fission fuels in small individual "power stations" at each farm.

"This would be an ideal arrangement for such a dispersed industry," said Professors C. G. E. Downing and P. H. Southwell of Guelph, Ont.

Search Continues For Missing Tot

PRINCE GEORGE, B.C. (CP)

Two hundred searchers remained overnight in the area surrounding the Willow River home of two-year-old Cindy Lou MacLane in hopes the child, if still alive, would make some sound that would lead them to her.

They heard nothing. Hopes that the little girl, missing from her home since 9 a.m. Tuesday, might still be alive flickered.

However, 500 searchers were back on the job shortly after daybreak and RCMP expected the number to swell to more than 1,000 today.

Schools at Willow River closed for 1 1/2 days so that students could take part in the search 14 miles east of Prince George.

"It must be pointed out that space and weight are not the primary considerations in design of agricultural prime mover and it is therefore possible that the use of nuclear energy in mobile units may occur within the sphere of farming."

They added that results of development work now being carried out on heat pumps and the harnessing of solar energy may also be advantageously supplied to agriculture in the future.

The ultimate result of this could be the elimination of the use of fossil fuels such as coal and oil on farms. At the present time, however, Canadian agriculture must continue to depend on refined petroleum as the source of energy for field work.

The Canadian paper was one of 10 forming the basis of discussion of a special conference session on the utilization of energy for farm and residential purposes.

The Ontario professors said one Canadian farmer in 1956 produced enough food to feed 18 persons—three times the output of a farmer in 1900.

Another Canadian paper said the benefits of reorganization of processes, the simultaneous introduction of new methods and the application of scientific developments are not necessarily credited to the use of electricity.

"Due to the effects of factors which usually accompany the new use of electricity it is sometimes difficult to assess the value of electricity alone," said F. T. Gale of Calgary, the agricultural expert who acted as general reporter on the session.

PASSES EXAMS

Upon the completion of a five-year course arranged through the Faculty of Commerce of UBC, Fergus Cullen learned yesterday that he had been successful in passing his final examinations of the Certified General Accountants Society. He has practiced accountancy in this city since 1948.

NAVAL CHIEF'S CRITICISM DENIED

U.S. Far East Policy Differences 'Not True'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Nathan Twining, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, said today a report that Admiral H. D. Felt, commander-in-chief in the Pacific, "has questioned the United States policy in the Formosa situation is not true."

Twining took the unusual step of issuing this formal denial in answer to questions about a story carried by the New York Times.

The story said Felt, in a series of communications to the joint chiefs, had questioned the American policy in the Far East.

In the messages, Felt said to have raised questions about the wisdom of defending the Nationalist-held offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu the adequacy of U.S. stocks of conventional explosives and the effectiveness of the Chinese Nationalist forces.

The brief statement by Twining added:

"Naturally, the defence department will neither disclose nor discuss the substance of messages between the commander-in-chief, Pacific, and the Pentagon involving operations in the Formosa area."

In the meantime, President Eisenhower is preparing to fly to Washington today for a television address tonight on the Far East crisis.

Interrupting his vacation at Newport, R.I., Eisenhower will make the address from the White House at 10 p.m. EDT.

In Canada, the speech will be carried on the full CBC trans-Canada radio network and will go on television as a delayed broadcast later in the evening.

Eisenhower decided to make the talk after consulting by telephone with State Secretary Dulles. Events Tuesday apparently made clear to Dulles that the public was not receiving sufficient word on administration policy on the whys and wherefores of the China situation.

That policy includes support of Nationalist China, tolerance of a Nationalist military buildup on the islands within sight of the Red-held mainland, and threatening to meet force with force if the Communists seemed about to wrest the islands from the Nationalists.

Criticism boiled up before Dulles at his Tuesday press conference. Seldom, in the memory of veteran diplomatic reporters, had so many sharp questions been fired at a secretary of state.

Nor had Dulles ever appeared more on the defensive, although he is an old hand at that sort of encounter with reporters.

Court Upholds Death Penalty

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—The Alabama supreme court today refused to reconsider an earlier decision which upheld the death sentence of Jimmy Wilson for a $1.95 robbery. The Negro handyman's execution was reset for Friday, Oct. 24.

Wilson's death sentence for the robbery of a $1.95 white widow was upheld by the supreme court last June 12, but the condemned man asked for a rehearing. That request was denied by the court today.

The effect of the denial was to uphold the death penalty for a second time and to order the 55-year-old illiterate ex-convict put to death in the electric chair.

Wilson, whose fate has attracted world-wide attention, was sentenced to death on a charge of robbing 82-year-old Mrs. Estelle Barker at her home at Marion, Ala., July 27, 1957.

Mrs. Barker told the trial jury the Negro, along with taking the money, choked her, tried to rape her and threatened her life.

The condemned Negro was to have been put to death last Friday, but the execution was postponed indefinitely when the supreme court failed to act on the rehearing before then. A new execution date was set down in the decree today.

Prospect is Dim For Improvement In Metal Industry

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mines Minister Kiernan said Wednesday there is no prospect of swift improvement in the economy of B.C.'s base metal industry unless conditions suddenly improve throughout the free world.

He told the United Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers Union western district convention the industry's problem is rooted in the fact it is almost entirely reliant on export markets.

"We are going through the painful process of adjusting production to demand in a world market that has seen a softening of prices, with reductions running over 30 per cent in the case of copper," he said.

"When we are able to process our raw materials within our own boundaries we will be less vulnerable."

The B.C. government is doing all it can to encourage such facilities and in the case of iron ore it is encouraging export to assist in establishment of local industry Mr. Kiernan said.

SIMILKAMEEN BAN STILL ON

VICTORIA (CP)—Hunting restrictions were lifted today in Game Management Area 9, North Okanagan, and in the part of Area 8 comprising the Greenwood-Grand Forks district.

Restrictions in the South Okanagan electoral district portion of Area 8 remain in force. Other districts still under closure include Area 7, Similkameen electoral district, and the Yale portion of Area 6.

Auto Workers May Strike Ford Plants

DETROIT (AP)—The big three auto makers headed back into contract talks with the United Auto Workers noon today with a threat of the industry's first major strike since 1950 hanging over Ford Motor Company.

The UAW, bogged down in contract negotiations with General Motors, Ford and Chrysler for almost six months, singled out Ford Wednesday night as its strike target and set the deadline for next Wednesday.

Strengthened now by the auto companies' need for smooth production in the opening weeks of the turning out the 1959 model, the UAW said in a statement its hopes of a settlement without a strike were bolstered by a change in the bargaining attitudes of the companies.

Camillien Houde, 'Mr. Montreal', Dies at Age 69

MONTREAL (CP)—Camillien Houde, 69, whose colorful terms as mayor earned him the title of Mr. Montreal, died suddenly today.

Mr. Houde, living quietly in retirement since 1954 had also served in the Quebec legislature and the federal Parliament.

But it was as mayor of Montreal that he gained international fame, part of it due to his internment during the Second World War because of his opposition to conscription.

He had considered making a comeback in the 1957 municipal elections but on his doctor's advice remained in retirement.

He was first elected mayor in 1928 and served until 1932. He was re-elected in 1934 and resigned in 1936. He was elected again in 1938 and served until 1940 when he publicly opposed national registration of Canadians.

Delegates Discuss Diefenbaker Letter

VANCOUVER (CP)—A letter reported to have been written by Prime Minister Diefenbaker to one of the candidates for leadership of the B.C. Conservative party was a leading topic today in behind-the-scenes talks at the leadership convention.

Existence of the letter, implying support of present leader, Deane Finlayson, was referred to in a column Tuesday by Stuart Keate, publisher of the Victoria Times.

He predicted Finlayson will win the leadership race and in calling the convention the present party chief was "merely taking a calculated risk."

"In fact, one of my better spies informs me that no less a personage than John Diefenbaker wrote Finlayson a letter, telling him he was solid, it was unnecessary, why did he do it, etc. etc."

Finlayson would neither confirm nor deny the existence of the letter.

The battle lines are now drawn and the stage is set in the political tussle for the leadership of the British Columbia Progressive Conservative party.

The stage is the huge, three-day party convention which officially opens tonight with a keynote address by party veteran Howard Green, now federal works minister and a right-hand man of Prime Minister Diefenbaker.

The battle will be waged among the more than 600 delegates from all parts of the province who began registering this morning for their most important—and enthusiastic—conference in years. The enthusiasm stems mainly from the party's federal sweep last March.

TWO GRADUATES

After two days of manoeuvring, delegates will be called on Saturday to vote either for the present leader, 38-year-old Deane Finlayson, or Dr. Desmond Fife Kidd, a 52-year-old geologist turned political strategist.

Nominations won't close until Friday evening but no other convention will come soon.

QUESTION ELIGIBILITY

Even before the convention began there were reports that the eligibility of some delegations, notably from Saanich and Esquimalt, would be questioned on technical grounds. Observers said that this actually boiled down to the battle between the Finlayson and Kidd factions.

The Esquimalt delegation is said to be primarily pro-Kidd.

Mr. Finlayson, who took over the party in the politically dark days of 1953 and insisted on maintaining an organization, need not have called the leadership convention. But his supporters say that because of criticism he decided to demand a "clear mandate."

Dr. Kidd is leaving a lucrative practice as a consulting geologist to take up the fight, declaring the party must be put in shape for a provincial election he believes will come soon.

Nuclear Test Ban Negotiations Set

LONDON (AP)—Britain and the United States today agreed to meet Russia in Geneva Oct. 31 to negotiate a world-wide ban on nuclear weapon tests.

They restated their willingness to quit firing atomic and hydrogen weapons for one year from that Oct. 31 date.

In notes to the Soviet Union made public today simultaneously in London and Washington, the two countries rejected Premier Khrushchev's proposal that the Geneva talks be limited to two or three weeks.

The British reply said:

"Her Majesty's government of course agree that the negotiations should be concluded as quickly as possible, but believe that their importance requires the expenditure of whatever time may mutually be deemed necessary for their successful conclusion."

LITTLE U.S. COMMENT

The U.S. note expressed "gratification" that Russia had agreed to start the talks, but withheld comment on proposals by the Soviet premier including his call for permanent suspension of tests instead of suspension on a year-by-year basis, as advocated by President Eisenhower.

The U.S. and Britain last Aug. 22 proposed that the three powers negotiate an accord to ban weapon tests. They also proposed that the agreement create an international control system to prevent cheating.

Their proposal followed agreement by a conference of scientists representing East and West on the technical arrangements necessary to police any world-wide suspension of nuclear tests.

NO PERMANENT BAN

The American and British notes both made it plain that the two countries do not accept Khrushchev's demands that the ban on tests be made permanent.

Both powers on Aug. 22 said that if the Russians showed up for the Oct. 31 talks they would quit testing their nuclear weapons for one year from that date—provided the Russians also refrained from testing in that period.

STEEL FRAMEWORK OF BUILDING COLLAPSES

AS IS

NO ONE was injured when the steel skeleton of a Toronto building collapsed into this spaghetti-like mass of girders, but seconds before, a bus with 45 passengers had turned up a side street and avoided the falling beams. The structure, shown left before the collapse, was being erected on a new principal which would have the supporting beams on the outside allowing maximum floor space in the interior.

100 Rounded Up After Attempt to Oust Gov't Fails

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—More than 100 persons have been rounded up throughout Venezuela and arrests are continuing in the aftermath of an unsuccessful attempt to overthrow the provisional government.

Federal District Governor Julio Diaz said Wednesday 20 civilians have been imprisoned in Caracas for conspiring with 18 military officers. Of the officers, six have been arrested, four are in refuge in the Mexican and Cuban embassies, one is being hunted and the others are in exile.

The officers tried Sunday to take over the government from Admiral Wolfgang Larrazabal, leader of a five-man junta that replaced a military dictatorship last January. The junta has promised free elections in November and a number of totalitarian-inclined officers don't like the idea.

Debbie Shocked Over Separation

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Debbie Reynolds and Eddie Fisher have separated although Debbie says, "I'm still in love with my husband."

They split up Wednesday amid rumors that Elizabeth Taylor was the cause of it all.

But Liz indicated there were some unhappy chapters in Hollywood's storybook marriage.

"I don't feel that I've taken Eddie away from Debbie because they weren't getting along, anyway," said Miss Taylor.

She slipped into seclusion. Debbie moved in with a friend, comedian Joey Forman. Debbie, after hiding out Wednesday with friends, returned to the family home.

"I am still in love with my husband," she said Wednesday night. "I am deeply shocked over what has happened."

Reporters asked her about Miss Taylor's comment.

"We were never happier than we have been in the last year," said Miss Reynolds. "I've tried to call Miss Taylor several times in the last two days—but I haven't been able to reach her."

Debbie said the separation wasn't her idea.

Eddie and Debbie argued after the singer returned from New York Tuesday, a week later than expected. During the week Debbie read newspaper accounts of her husband being seen in New York with the widow of showman Mike Todd.

Todd was a close friend of Fisher's. When he was killed in a New Mexico plane crash in March, Debbie cared for Liz's children, while Eddie flew with glee every night after debauching in hotels.

On Wednesday night, as reporters waited for a statement on the hospital officials said the man, couple's marital status, a month and 75 and weighing less than 100 pounds, died of starvation. His finger and toe nails were more than an inch long.

Elderly Chinese Dies of Starvation

VICTORIA (CP)—An elderly Chinese, described by hospital officials as the "worst case of neglect" ever seen here, died Wednesday night after collapsing in a city street earlier in the day.

He was identified as Day Lam, who was identified as a man, couple's marital status, a month and 75 and weighing less than 100 pounds, died of starvation. His finger and toe nails were more than an inch long.

The title: The Matting Game.

FURTHER INVESTIGATION UNDER WAY

Boy Admits Slaying Parents

By EDWARD NICKERSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Melvin Nimer Jr., a blonde eight-year-old, says he plotted the murder of his parents—and carried it out with a kitchen knife while they slept.

His story fits the facts of the bloody Staten Island slaying attributed originally to a white masked intruder.

But the district attorney emphasized that there is still much to be explained about the Sept. 2 slayings and that Melvin had not been arrested.

PERSECUTION COMPLEX

A psychiatric report on the child indicated he has a persecution complex and a personality incompatible with the commission of violence.

The boy's uncle, Dr. Harold Nimer, said he does not believe Melvin stands about 4½ feet and weighs 60 pounds.

"He definitely is capable" of the killings, a detective said when asked about the boy's size and physical ability to inflict the stab wounds.

Braisted said young Melvin told him:

"That he plotted the slaying days in advance—apparently agitated by some real or fancied actions of his parents. Braisted declined to say just what the grievances were.

"That he seized a knife from the kitchen, walked up stairs to the parents' bedroom, and stabbed his father first, then his mother.

"That his father somehow staggered to his feet and chased him downstairs, then collapsed there—where police found him.

Communists Bombard Quemoy Supply Convoy

By FORREST EDWARDS

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—The first American - escorted supply convoy to Quemoy in three days reached the besieged Nationalist island today and, soon after, Communist shore forces started shelling.

An American command spokesman said the first half hour of the barrage inflicted no damage either on the Nationalist landing craft on the beach or on the U.S. 7th Fleet escorts three miles or more offshore.

A brief communique from the Nationalist defence ministry reported only that "our supply ships reached Quemoy and are unloaded under the threat of enemy gunfire."

LULL ENDED

The Communist guns had been silent for 21 hours, but a storm in the Formosa Strait Wednesday had prevented dispatch of a convoy.

The U.S. command on Formosa announced that U.S. jet pilots have begun taking an active part in the defence of Formosa itself.

A spokesman said American air units now are in position at bases here and "have assumed full alert responsibilities for nighttime defence of Taiwan (Formosa)."

That means the planes stand on runways, fully armed and warmed up. American pilots are ready to take off the moment there is any report of unidentified planes approaching.

The spokesman would not say how many U.S. planes and pilots are involved, but it is generally believed there are about 250 to 300 U.S. air Force and marine jets on Formosa ready for combat.

Peiping radio reported that militia men have been mobilized at Amoy and the Tatung and Hsiao-Iang islands across from Quemoy.

The broadcast said they were "ready to co-ordinate with the Chinese people's liberation army in wiping out invaders at any moment."

The Russians also issued another warning to the United States that war with China would mean war with Soviet Union.

In a broadcast beamed to North America, Moscow radio repeated its pledges to come to China's aid and warned that China is no "little Lebanon." It repeated Premier Khrushchev's demand that the 7th Fleet withdraw from the Formosa Strait and U.S. troops get out of Formosa.

Experts Discuss Power Financing

By DAVE OANCIA

Canadians' economic prospects, said that basically the economies are working against the desire of Canada to become self-sufficient in oil.

Dr. Davis suggested that shutting off the flow of oil imports in the Montreal area could lead to higher-priced domestic oil and the use of alternative sources of energy.

One British power consultant, Charles L. Blackburn of London, told the World Power Conference that only in the United States, and to some extent in Canada, has direct private investment in undertakings under private control been able to supply any large part of the demand for capital for utilities expansion.

He said that which fresh capital has been needed to provide for the development of electric power had created an increasingly serious problem all over the world.

TURK TO WORLD BANK

"It is particularly serious in underdeveloped countries and some indication of this fact is found in the very high proportion of loans made by the World Bank which have been devoted to the development of the electricity supply," he said.

Mr. Blackburn said the shortage of capital may not have been the prime cause for the disappearance of privately-owned utilities undertakings in the Commonwealth, but added it was at least a contributory cause.

In Europe there has been less direct nationalization, but in many countries the government has moved into the picture as both a shareholder and a lender.

He named post-war inflation as one of the causes of the shortage of capital.

ATTACKS PIPELINE

In other sessions Wednesday, a top Canadian energy authority questioned the economic feasibility of building a pipeline from Alberta to Montreal to supply refineries with Prairie crude oil.

Dr. John Davis, author of a study of Canadian energy prospects for the royal commission on Canadians' economic prospects, said that basically the economies are working against the desire of Canada to become self-sufficient in oil.

Dr. Davis suggested that shutting off the flow of oil imports in the Montreal area could lead to higher-priced domestic oil and the use of alternative sources of energy.

Diefenbaker Holidaying in Saskatchewan

SASKATOON — (CP) — Prime minister Diefenbaker began a brief Saskatchewan holiday Wednesday night by going to bed early.

The prime minister retired at 8:30 p.m., after visiting his mother in a Saskatoon hospital and having a leisurely dinner.

He and Mrs. Diefenbaker arrived here by air Wednesday afternoon and leave for Prince Albert by train early today.

A spokesman for Diefenbaker said the prime minister hopes to do some fishing in Lac La Ronge, deep in northern Saskatchewan, before returning to Ottawa Monday.

"Happyvale" School Soon Completed

"Happyvale" Penticton's new school for the Mentally Retarded Children is rapidly nearing completion on its Edmonton Avenue site.

A Kinsmen Club project, a spokesman for the club said that the school will be officially opened between October 1st and 15th. Members of the Penticton and District Association for Mentally Retarded Children are busily engaged in soliciting furnishings for the new school.

Kenyon and Co. have made the desks available at a minimum charge, however, President Mrs. Earl Wells says there are many other items needed and asks that anyone who might wish to donate any of the listed articles to please get in touch with her at 4630.

Articles required for the furnishing are — a couch in good repair, a small radio, kitchen utensils, dishes, etc., a large mirror, a wooden work table, 3 feet by 7 or 8 feet long, (a slab door with legs might serve this purpose), open shelves, educational toys, records and children's books. Cash donations are also acceptable.

Sees Day When Every Town Will Have Gas

John A. McMahon, president of Inland Natural Gas, told guests at a special reception at Inland Field Headquarters yesterday that his company anticipated the day when every city, town and hamlet would have a natural gas network to serve it.

In his brief speech Mr. McMahon expressed his pleasure at being in Penticton and pledged continuing progressive thinking in the future.

And, the power of TV notwithstanding, the Pines Drive-In gives you one more chance to see Lionel Shaprio's "D-Day, Sixth of June" tonight. Shaprio died quite recently, but his powerful story of the days prior to the great invasion will live for a long time.

NEW TEACHERS
A total of 23 new teachers started work in Penticton schools last week.

Bill Sparks, formerly of Kamloops, UBC graduate teaching at the Junior High School here, tells us that when you discount the 14 new classrooms added locally this year this number of teachers represents a relatively low annual turn-over. In contrast with many other cities in B.C., Penticton seems able to retain the greater part of its teaching staff over the years.

They must be partly rooted in the fruit-growing industry. Or maybe it's just because Penticton is such a fine place.

So Now We Live in Pinksdkldkldkd

That's right — Pinksdkldkldkd. Your eyes aren't failing you. And it's not a town in Wales. It is supposed to be a city of some 13,000 souls located at the south end of Lake Okanagan, about 254 miles east of Vancouver.

R. K. Gurney, 896 Winnipeg Street, Penticton, actually received a postcard with the above slight slip-up in the address. How he managed to get it delivered to him constitutes one of the great mysteries of our time.

The people at the Post Office must be blessed with some kind of sixth sense.

CENTENNIAL CARAVAN

Entrance is on Jermy Avenue and there's lots of room for parking cars.

OKLAHOMA AGAIN
See that the movie Oklahoma is still making the rounds — and deservedly so. One of the best musicals of the modern age the easy-to-whistle songs can be heard during a two-night stand at the Pen-Mar on Monday and Tuesday.

And, the power of TV notwithstanding, the Pines Drive-In gives you one more chance to see Lionel Shaprio's "D-Day, Sixth of June" tonight. Shaprio died quite recently, but his powerful story of the days prior to the great invasion will live for a long time.

NEW TEACHERS
A total of 23 new teachers started work in Penticton schools last week.

Bill Sparks, formerly of Kamloops, UBC graduate teaching at the Junior High School here, tells us that when you discount the 14 new classrooms added locally this year this number of teachers represents a relatively low annual turn-over. In contrast with many other cities in B.C., Penticton seems able to retain the greater part of its teaching staff over the years.

They must be partly rooted in the fruit-growing industry. Or maybe it's just because Penticton is such a fine place.

GOAT DOING WELL
The wild mountain goat that found its way into the basement of Dr. and Mrs. H. P. Barr is reportedly doing well in the Okanagan Falls natural life zoological gardens.

DELICIOUS PICKING
Saturday 13 September has been the date set for commencement of the picking of Delicious apples in the Oliver-Osoyoos area. Following the break in the hot weather a couple of weeks ago the apples began to taken on color quite rapidly but the warmer weather that has occurred recently has slowed up the coloring process and there is still much to be desired. Size appears to be quite satisfactory.

Princess Pats Impress Oliver

OLIVER — A detachment of 100 officers and men of the 1st Battalion Princess Patricia's Light Infantry visited Oliver on Tuesday as part of the province's centennial celebrations.

A large crowd saw them give a display of a sectional attack on a strong point under cover of a smoke screen. This was followed by presenting of the Retreat ceremony in which the Battalion drums took part.

A Royal Canadian Engineer travelling museum was in attendance displaying arms and equipment currently in use.

The detachment remained in Oliver overnight and left early Wednesday morning for Grand Forks where a similar demonstration was planned for that evening.

GUEST SPEAKER
Guest speaker at the First Baptist Church in Penticton this Sunday at 11 a.m. will be Rev. Art Fritzki, B.A., B.D., missionary-elect to India.

At the evening service at 7:30 p.m. Rev. Gordon Vincent, Pastor of First Baptist Church, will speak on the topic of "A Most Fascinating Person." Everyone is asked to "Be square all week and come round on Sunday."

Canadians Held in High Regard by UK

OLIVER — Ted Trump accompanied by Mrs. Trump returned to Oliver last week after an extended business and pleasure trip through Europe. Asked as to the feeling in England about Canada and Canadians Mr. Trump said that Canada and its people were held in the highest regard.

The English people were keenly interested in Canadian politics and still impressed with the huge majority given Prime Minister Diefenbaker in the last election. In France such a majority was viewed with some measure of envy for the power and stability it brought to government.

In France, concerning the return to public life of Gen. de Gaulle, Mr. Trump said that the people generally seemed to be of an open mind and, with the exception of extremists of both right and left, were inclined to let him have his try at bringing badly needed stability to the country.

While in Europe Mr. and Mrs. Trump visited the World's Fair at Brussels.

They were most impressed, he said, with the British pavilion. It was modest in comparison with those of the U.S. and Russia but full of dignity. The Canadian exhibit, he thought, undersold Canada.

Before returning to Canada via the Polar route, the Trumps motored through West Germany, Austria, Switzerland and Italy.

Administrator For Foresters Welcomed Here

Executive officers of the local branch of the Independent Order of Foresters, yesterday welcomed administrative manager Ron Page to Penticton.

Mr. Page was formerly a resident of Lethbridge. He will be taking up residence here to organize the development of the local group.

Joe Smith, local Chief Ranger for the organization, will be calling several meetings of the local executive during the next few weeks to discuss development plans.

Prior to being transferred here Mr. Page was active in Forester work for eight years in Lethbridge.

Nearly 60% of British Columbia is unsuitable for growing any commercial cover. About 38% of the land is best suited to growing trees. British Columbia is a forestry province.

INLAND PRESIDENT GUEST AT RECEPTION

John A. McMahon, president of Inland Natural Gas, visited Penticton yesterday and was shown through Inland's new field headquarters building on Okanagan Avenue. The Penticton office also played host to civic dignitaries and other guests at a reception last

E.E. Hyndman Receives Gift of Appreciation

Items of local interest arising from the monthly general meeting of the Board of School Trustees of District 16, including notification of the resumption of activities for the year of Squadron 582, R. C. Air Cadets and Cadettes on Sept. 10, in the auditorium of Similkameen High School and the announcement, with the opening date not yet set, of night school program to include woodwork and English for New Canadians.

The renting of the auditorium for the annual Thanksgiving dinner sponsored by the W.A. to St. John's Anglican Church was approved by the board.

A milk dispenser has been installed in the school cafeteria.

At the close of the meeting, the chairman of the board expressed congratulations to Mr. E. E. Hyndman on his recent appointment as Chief Inspector of District Superintendents and expressed regret at the loss of Mr. Hyndman, presenting to him a small gift of appreciation for his assistance and advice to the Board of School District 16.

The board reported an overall slight increase in the schools of District 16 over that of 1957-58 term. The following are the current figures in the individual schools of the District: Cawston Elementary, 127; Hedley Elementary, 87; Keremeos Elementary, 172 and Similkameen Junior-Senior High School, 242.

Following is a complete list of the members of the teaching staffs of the various schools in District 16:

Progress Retarded By Local Diehards?

A Four-Year resident of Penticton recently penned the following provocative letter to the editor of the Herald. As the writer, Noel Barry says, some will disagree with his views. How about you?

Letters agreeing or disagreeing with the writer will be welcomed providing they follow the usual publications regulations.

A name and address must be attached, the letters should be short, and, however much you disagree with what or whom you are writing about, they should be free of libellous phrases. Write on one side of the notepaper and write clearly.

The Herald editorial staff reserves the right to decide whether the letters are worthy of publication or not.

TO MAKE US THINK
Sir,

After four years in the Okanagan (Penticton) I decided it was high time I went to the Kelowna Regatta to see why the city claims the "Greatest Lake Show in Canada".

It was not difficult to see why the event justifies its claim to fame and it appeared obvious to all who were in Kelowna for the Regatta. Community support and maximum enthusiasm. By comparison Penticton's annual event the Peach Festival, becomes a dismal and disappointing failure.

Why?

I feel that there is no excuse for our shortcomings and lack of awareness in our fair city, particularly in view of our much vaunted "tourist paradise".

With due respect to the committee that organizes our Peach Festival "attractions" (what attractions?) It seems high time that we inject a little progressive thinking into our committees and come up with some ideas in keeping with the times we are living in. According to some of the records in the Penticton Herald offices dating back some twenty years or so, there is considerably less community activity now than there was then, which somewhat confirms my statement that we are far, far behind the times.

Geographically speaking, Penticton is a natural for speedy events that would draw huge crowds and I am certain that if we were to catch the "disease" that enthralls our neighbors into action during Regatta week we could also boast of "A big Canadian Event".

I am aware that this opinion is not shared by all. They unhappily represent the diehards that the majority of mature minded citizens realize that a new generation is being educated in our school who will leave Penticton as a rat leaves a sinking ship if we don't modernize our community spirit and pattern out annual programs on progressive and up to date methods.

Penticton is a morgue in the winter. We have natural sites close to town that could be developed as a miniature St. Moritz. If it's beautiful for summer vacations, it can also be beautiful as a winter sporting paradise. The city must extend its seasons.

The next time a logging permit is applied for in this area, why not for areas of timber that would open up a ski-run, a chair-lift and a winter chaise? Better to spend fifty thousand dollars on that than the dubious building known as the Jubilee Pavilion.

Fifty thousand dollars would also cover the cost of blacktopping a Grand Prix sports car racing circuit, in a location already surveyed and found perfect. There are many more enterprises and far less costly, but who will listen? Storm in a teacup.

Other symptoms are: headaches, frequent styles, watering or bloodshot eyes, and nausea when associated with the use of the eyes, e.g., car sickness.

Vision problems are not always accompanied by obvious symptoms, however, nor can most of them be discovered by chart tests only, they require complete examination by a trained practitioner. It is advisable, therefore, to have your child's eyes examined by his optometrist or ophthalmologist. When this is done vision problems are quickly discovered and can be promptly attended to.

For refractive errors—such as near-sightedness (myopia), far-sightedness (hyperopia) and astigmatism—glasses are usually prescribed. Lenses, properly ground and fitted, bend light rays to compensate for refractive errors of the eye.

Vision training or orthoptics is the answer to many problems of eye muscle imbalance; for example, it is often the means by which strabismus—crossed eyes—may be corrected.

With the aid of modern science practically all children can see clearly, comfortably and correctly. Make an eye examination part of your child's preparation for back to school.

Since more than 90 per cent of all school activities are based on vision, a child's whole development is very closely associated with his ability to see clearly, comfortably and correctly. His safety, too, is related to quick and accurate seeing, accidents can happen because of poor vision.

Here are some of the symptoms which, the Canadian Association of Optometrists says, may indicate a vision problem:

1. Avoiding close work; 2. Losing place while reading or using finger as a pointer to keep place; 3. Holding reading closer than approximately 13-16 inches; 4. Excessive head movements while reading; 5. Poor sitting posture and position while reading; 6. Frowning, excessive blinking, scowling, squinting or other facial distortions while reading; 7. Tilting head to one side; 8. Tending to rub eyes; 9. Thrusting head forward; 10. Tension during close work; 11. Body rigidity while looking at distant objects. Other symptoms are: headaches, frequent styles, watering or bloodshot eyes, and nausea when associated with the use of the eyes, e.g., car sickness.

Malenkov Suicide Still Unconfirmed

LONDON (AP)—A rumor that former Soviet premier Georgi Malenkov has committed suicide was circulating again in some London diplomatic circles today, but most Soviet experts here were skeptical.

The Daily Express said it received a Malenkov suicide report from "a particularly reliable source." The Express said the report appeared to be "the strongest among a spate of reports that have been reaching the West about the fate of the man Khrushchev toppled from power."

The writer, Stephen Constant, made it plain that the report lacked confirmation of any kind.

Be Sure Your License Permits You to Hit What You Shoot at

Superstitious hunters will be pleased if the opening of the hunting season is delayed this year. Due to open this Saturday, September 13, the annual volley of rifle shots cracking across valleys and hills may have to be held back till a little more moisture descends to make the hills safe.

Yet even the heaviest rainstorm will only eliminate one of the hazards of hunting, that of forest fire. The great danger, that of sudden death, will remain.

Itchy trigger fingers of hunters anxious to kill game will this year take their usual toll of human life. It happens without fail every fall in Canada.

The date of the opening of the annual slaughter doesn't really matter. Game wardens tell us that the hunter helps control the life cycle of game. Without it birds, ducks and deer would rapidly get out of hand and create a major problem. Humanity, however, does not need the assistance of the hunter's gun to control the human population.

In areas of the province where the season is already open the first accidents have been reported. On the telegraph wire this morning we read the story of a Nanaimo man who had been shot in the face by a fellow hunter while out after ducks. Such incidents will be common during the next few months and not one will be justified. There is every excuse for missing a moving target, but there is no excuse, none at all, for hitting a fellow man when you are aiming at bird or beast.

How to Grow a Genius

It is an oddity that, while creative folk in arts and letters are traditionally poor and are also traditionally opposed to powerful and wealthy societies, most periods of great productivity in arts and letters have occurred in prosperous times.

This was certainly true of Athens, which hit its peak of spiritual greatness while physically dominating its environment. Rome's frontiers reached their farthest in the years when her arts and letters, such as they were, reached their highest points. The Italian city states were strong in power and pelf at the Renaissance. Remembering that the Athenian culture turned sharply downhill after the whipping by Sparta, it is a nice question whether the Elizabethans would have kept on writing so well had the Armada been less unwieldy or the weather off England had been better. The British Augustan age (these days in eclipse with the Roman-like stretch of Britain's Empire. Wordsworth and Coleridge, a couple of rebels, were based on a relatively-peaceful and prosperous England. The Romantic age might have taken a different turn had neither night nor Blucher appeared at Waterloo. The rebel French painters and poets of the nineteenth century grew to greatness while the French army still dominated Europe. Karl Marx wrote Das Kapital in the British Museum, while the fleet kept London safe for rebels.

Marx, the fugitive from Prussia, brings up the other cultural ingre-

So, whether the season opens on Saturday or later, make sure the target you see in your sights is the target your hunting license permits you to shoot at. Coroners have enough inquests to attend during the normal course of human carelessness.

One other word of advice to the would-be woodsman.

Earlier this week an 11-year-old Hedley boy was lost in the hills for 20-hours. When he eventually found his way back to civilization he was surprised to find dozens of searchers looking for him. "I remembered what my dad told me and kept calm," were the words he used when he walked into the searchers camp. "I wasn't worried."

Forest Service and search officials told us at the time that if the youngster didn't lose his head he would be found without trouble. "Unfortunately," one of the spokesmen said, "even veteran hunters panic when they get lost. They usually make matters much worse for themselves by going to pieces and either bring about their own deaths or create for themselves added hardships."

Saturday or later, whenever the signal is given for B.C.s nimrods to enter the hills, keep your finger off the trigger till you're sure you are shooting at the right target, and if you do get lost, keep calm.

As newspapermen we shall welcome your name as a successful hunter. In the obituary column we shall print it with regret.

dient, freedom. Besides power and wealth as a base for arts and letters, freedom is necessary. This seems so, even although Athens, in her best days, put Socrates to death, and Rome exiled Juvenal up the Nile and Ovid to the Black Sea, and Florence chased out Dante. Today's Russia, a wealthy and powerful state, appears to be comparatively unexciting in arts and letters, except for the ballet and the work of some composers and poets. There may be other cautious folk working quietly in cellars, but it is hard to learn about them.

History's object lesson for Canadians? Well, for one thing, no attention should be paid to the idea that this is a young country and therefore should not be expected to achieve much. Homer, or the bards who were Homer, lived in a country recently invaded and conquered land. Greece was brand new when Homer sang. But the main point is that Homer was a member of a successful community.

Canadians hope to do better for their budding Homers, in the same way that Canadian democracy is superior to the Greek's in looking after others than the ruling class. The best that can be done, however, for a genius is to give him free time to work, and to leave him alone.

The main job for the badgers (those folk whose contribution is to ruin things so that others may produce) is to keep this country free and solvent, as the one sure base for good work.

that it is dangerous to drive after drinking alcohol. Well, it may be dangerous to drive while smoking excessively too. At least that is the opinion of a British publication, "The Optician."

WHAT HAPPENS

The blood stream, you see, absorbs carbon monoxide from incomplete combustion of tobacco 210 times faster than it takes in oxygen. Heavy smoking can produce as much as 10 per cent saturation of hemoglobin with carbon monoxide instead of oxygen.

Tests have shown that only three per cent carbon monoxide saturation can measurably impair sharpness of vision and depth perception.

All of this, "The Optician" says, seems to indicate that smoking at the wheel hampers the eyesight. And certainly good eyesight is a driving essential.

ONE-EYED DRIVING
Speaking of depth perception, not have you ever realized how difficult it would be to drive, or to do almost anything, for that matter, with only one eye?

Here's a little demonstration that will show you just how valuable your three-dimensional sight is. But I don't want you to try it while driving.

Close one eye. Then point to an object about eight to ten feet away.

You will notice that your finger appears to be almost touching the object. Right?

Then open both eyes and look again.

PROPER PERSPECTIVE

Now you see both your finger, and the distant object in the proper perspective. You can see that your finger really is a considerable distance from the object, not almost touching it as it first appeared.

You've heard a lot about stereoscopic sound lately. Well, your two eyes, operating together give you stereoscopic vision.

These all-important eyes of yours are very sensitive organs. Considered as one of the most intensive financial meetings held within the Commonwealth since the Ottawa tariff conference of 1932.

WATER CONTAMINATION

Editor, The Herald, Sir,

An open letter to the provincial government of British Columbia.

In a few days from now the residents of Okanagan Falls are going to be faced with another imposition. Namely, chlorination of water at the pump that serves the citizens of O.K. Falls and district. It is to be voted on and therefore is a community affair.

With all due respect to Dr. Clark the provincial health officer for his findings regarding this matter, there is no doubt he is doing his job.

One very salient point has apparently been overlooked purposely or not is another matter. The contamination of water here is not due to any extent to the residents and members of the O.K. Falls water district. They will have to bear the brunt of this scheme. This contamination, if any, must come from up the lakes. The order is for O.K. Falls to chlorinate voluntarily or have it imposed on the district.

I am aware an order can be made to impose this move. Therefore I would like to suggest that all residents or property owners, residing within 250 feet of the lakeshore or Okanagan river, be assessed commensurate with the members of the Okanagan Falls water district. This should take in the city of Penticton, Kaledon and no doubt Kelowna, which all pertain to the pollution of the waters.

I would also suggest the provincial government study this matter thoroughly before imposing another tax which, to say the least, is not the fault of the O.K. Falls water district. The tax, if any, should be a mandatory throughout B.C. wherever tankage sewerage is allowed to flow into the lakes.

Sincerely,
R. A. JAKIN,
Okanagan Falls, B.C.

A-Subs Must Get Rid of 'Hot' Trash

By FRANK CAREY

WASHINGTON (AP)

Garbage collection day—atomic variety—comes around only once every six months on a nuclear submarine.

In fact, one type of this atomic-era garbage needs to be collected only once a year.

The garbage is the radioactive waste products from the uranium-burning furnaces that propel the Nautilus and other nuclear subs on long journeys without refueling.

Nuclear-powered merchant ships of the future will have the same type of radioactive trash, and while the quantities will be larger than those in a submarine, they still will need to be collected only at the same long intervals.

In peacetime, all of the "hot" garbage from nuclear submarines is buried in atomic cemeteries on land or, in the case of the most dangerous type, stored in huge underground steel tanks.

DISPOSAL AT SEA

Under wartime conditions, however, the navy would have available a system whereby it could dispose of the less dangerous material directly into the sea. Any such disposal would be at least 12 miles from the nearest land, and well beyond any fishing area. Thus, in some instances, this would mean 100 or more miles at sea.

With certain minor exceptions all radioactive garbage disposal from merchant ships will be by ground burial or underground tank storage.

The type of reactor used in nuclear subs, and probably in the prospective atomic merchant fleet of the future, is called a pressurized water reactor.

It "burns" uranium, mostly of the fissionable type called U235. But there's some nonfissionable U238 in it. The fuel is encased in a core deep in the heart of a heavily shielded reactor.

Water, under pressure, is circulated through the fuel core. It picks up the heat generated by the chain reaction in the uranium and then gives off the heat to a so-called heat exchanger.

The heat causes another entirely separate system of water to produce steam which in turn drives a turbine for the production of electricity.

LIKE WATER SOFTENING

The so-called coolant water is specially purified when it's put in, but in circulating through the pipes it becomes corroded with microscopic quantities of metals from the walls of the pipe. These include such metals as iron, nickel, chromium, cobalt and manganese.

As these impurities circulate with the water through the reactor core they absorb neutrons—atomic rays—from the chain reaction, and become radioactive.

If they were left in the water they'd eventually foul up the system and also add to the shielding requirements.

To remove them, atomic engineers employ a method somewhat analogous to the way a housewife softens water.

The water is caused to flow constantly through a so-called exchange chamber. This contains synthetic resinous materials that act somewhat like scavengers. That is, the impurities combine with the resins and are removed from the water, just as a housewife removes calcium and magnesium from hard water by employing a water softener.

But now the resins are radioactive. They constitute one form of garbage.

This is pumped into a steel drum and consigned to an atomic cemetery when the sub gets into port.

HOTTEST GARBAGE

Whereas a submarine would fill only a couple of these drums in a year, a big merchant vessel with a larger reactor—or possibly even two reactors—might fill 10 or 20 in a year's time.

This is the same type of stuff the navy might flush into the sea from submarines in wartime.

Engineers at the United States Atomic Energy Commission say most of the material consists of short-lived isotopes—that is, nuclear materials whose radioactivity would essentially disappear within minutes after release.

The hottest kind of garbage aboard a nuclear-powered vessel consists of fission products from the chain-reacting uranium. But, under normal conditions, these are kept sealed within the same metallic jackets that encase the uranium fuel, except for relatively insignificant leakage that occurs through pinholes in the jackets. And these are removed by the ion exchange system.

CONSIGNED TO TANKS

After about a year's time these fission products must be removed from the reactor because the remaining uranium wouldn't function.

The entire reactor core is removed by remotely controlled instruments. It's then placed in a heavily shielded lead-lined container and despatched to a chemical processing plant.

The fission product waste—highly radioactive—is removed from the uranium and then consigned in liquid form to one of the huge underground storage tanks.

Only the Nautilus, which sailed for a year on her initial fueling, has so far undergone this process. Her garbage now rests at the Arco, Idaho, plant of the AEC.

OTTAWA REPORT

His Principles MP Stuck to

By PATRICK NICHOLSON
Special Correspondent to the Herald

OTTAWA: A bitter disagreement on principle cleft the parliamentary Liberal Party in the dying days of the session, and only compromise and jockeying in the midnight lamp-light prevented sensational events from hitting the headlines.

Last month the Liberals gave the honorable position of difficult task as chairman of the Public Accounts Committee to Montreal M.P. Alan Macnaughton, who is one of the most prominent survivors of the Liberal debacle.

As Liberal chairman of that predominantly Conservative committee, Macnaughton soon found himself torn between his personal principles and his party's political opportunism. He has had cause to resent that Liberal trait ever since he was passed over by the then Prime Minister, Mr. St. Laurent, for promotion to the Cabinet four years ago. He had shown himself an able and upright politician in his five years in Parliament, and he was understandably disappointed when he was deprived of the widely expected recognition by Mr. St. Laurent's act in bringing out-sider George Mealy into his Cabinet and into Parliament, as top-ranking English-speaking representative from Montreal.

The witnesses questioned by the Public Accounts committee were devastatingly disclosing gross inefficiency and waste by the previous Liberal government, in the matter of the 16 million dollar printing palace.

His party colleagues privately demanded that Macnaughton, as chairman, should crack down toughly on the Conservative questioners. Their more embarrassing questions should be ruled out of order, as Liberal chairmen had been doing to Conservatives in committee for many past years.

HIGH PRINCIPLES PREVAIL

But Macnaughton is a lawyer both honest and ethical. He had once been Crown Prosecutor himself. He knows that in a court of law the judge allows a questioner to bore in on any witness who seems to be lying or withholding relevant facts. He stuck to his principles and rejected his party's demands.

In a stormy Liberal caucus, it was apparently demanded that he should resign from the chairmanship. But he disapproved of the boycott of the committee being staged by his party colleagues, and he intended to continue the duty he had undertaken.

He refused to resign. The Liberal party was in an uproar. Led by Pickersgill and Chevrier, two ex-Cabinet Ministers, they demanded that the party's interests be served. Liberal Leader Lester Pearson alone supported Macnaughton, who was shocked that his two chief persecutors do not understand that there is now a new Liberal Party with new Liberal principles under the new Pearson leadership.

Alan Macnaughton said he was getting a rough time from his own party. He was expected to cross the floor of the House and join the Conservatives, rather than be read out of the Liberal Party.

THE DAMNING REPORT

Matters reached a climax, as at session's end, chairman Macnaughton drafted an interim report on the work of the committee.

His Liberal colleagues said his draft was too critical of the former Liberal government. Conservative committee members said that it did not sufficiently underline the mismanagement of that Liberal government. So Macnaughton withdrew his draft and Conservative David Walker and Liberal J. W. Pickersgill sat up half the night together composing a compromise draft. Later Pickersgill rejected that compromise, and brought in his own draft, optimistically typed in English and in French. Harold Winch of the CCF also brought in his draft.

Then Conservative committee member Ed Morris from Halifax picked up the Macnaughton draft, and presented it with his endorsement.

With six minor changes of grammar and fact, it was adopted by the Conservative and CCF majority on the committee, over Liberal opposition.

Today the Liberal St. Laurent government stands indicted of administrative inefficiency and disconcerting extravagance in the words of St. Laurent's rejected would-be Cabinet colleague, Alan Macnaughton; words pressured out of Macnaughton's hands by his own party, but accepted as a fair verdict by Conservative and CCF MPs.

Alan Macnaughton, successful businessman-lawyer who fairly and skillfully performed the onerous and time-consuming task as committee chairman, today holds his head high with his principles unswayed. But it is improbable that his Liberal colleagues would offer, or would he accept, that role unchanged next session.

INTERPRETING THE NEWS

Dulles Displays His Bluff Talents

By JOSEPH MACSWEEN

Canadian Press Staff Writer

The Formosan crisis has once again spotlighted the peculiar talents of State Secretary John Foster Dulles. At 70 years of age, this forceful man tackles each new crisis with an air of inde- fatigable vigor.

WHERE BLUFF ENDS

It is difficult to conceive of such a statement being made by an American statesman, say, 20 years ago. Dulles' words are the measure of the responsibility placed upon him.

His aims—and where his bluff ends—are indicated in this statement: "You can not isolate and say that the only problem involved here is Quemoy and Matsu. What is involved, and what is under threat, is the entire position on the U.S. and that of the free-world allies in the Western Pacific."

Dulles has added a new dimension to the ancient game of bluff which, it seems clear, is a technique being used on both sides in the current war between the United States and Red China over the Quemoy and Matsu islands.

In the hands of Dulles, bluff becomes more than the dictionary definition of "threat designed to operate without action." On Formosa, Dulles first issued a statement on behalf of President Eisenhower giving a stern warning to the Communist Chinese. A "high official" then made the warning considerably stronger.

A CERTAIN MANNER

Dulles subsequently admitted that he was that official, and outlined to reporters what he meant by U.S. support of Chiang Kai-shek. He seemed to be saying that if the Red Chinese acted in a certain, undefined manner, the U.S. would retaliate in a certain, undefined manner.

He also held out an invitation to negotiate which, however limited and vague, must be contrived. Many Canadians, for instance, would consider it merely common sense if the U.S. backed away from war over the Quemoy and Matsu. But in the ears of Chiang the Dulles statement may have sounded like betrayal.

An historic feature of the whole affair is that U.S. policy in the Far East seems to be left entirely to Eisenhower and Dulles with a minimum of criticism and comment at home.

PRIVATE DIPLOMACY

Ordinary Americans—traditionally merciless in criticism of their government in foreign affairs—seem to be almost aloof in this crisis. Congress is in recess and many newspapers have said they lack the full facts on the situation.

On this, Dulles said: "I, of course, recognize that a policy which involves making grave decisions of this kind should, so far as practical, have the support of the American people. But also, I am aware of the fact that the elements which go into making final decisions are so delicate, often times not subject to public appraisal, that there lies a responsibility upon the president and his principal advisers which cannot be shared with the general public."

On support from allies, Dulles

The blouse favors a shallow scarf neck and below-elbow sleeves. Good dorm two-piece, too.

HEATHER IN BOUQUET

Lois Campbell, Dr. W. K. Kirkwood Principals in Autumn Ceremony

White heather sent from Scotland by the groom's parents was arranged with stephanotis and orchids to form the all-white bouquet carried by Lois Mae Campbell when she became the bride of Dr. William Kenneth Kirkwood of North Burnaby at a double-ring ceremony Saturday evening in St. Saviour's Anglican Church. Canon A. R. Eagles read the wedding vows for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald F. Campbell, Penticton, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Kirkwood, Paisley, Scotland.

Masses of pastel colored gladioli and softly glowing candle light set the scene when the lovely auburn-haired bride was given in marriage by her father. Her original model gown was styled of white satin misted by chiffon and Valenciennes lace. The delicate imported lace was fashioned into a hip-length molded bodice designed with long lily-point sleeves and Sabrina neckline edged in seed pearls and sequins. The bouffant skirt fell in graceful folds to floor-length over crinolines and hoops. Her chapel veil was clasped by coronet of lace and sequins.

Sheath frocks styled alike with bouffant ballerina-length overskirts of nylon chiffon in variegated hues of autumn were worn by the attendants; Miss Beth Howden, maid of honor, in softly colored yellow blending to a deep orange shade, and Miss Flora Starcevic, bridesmaid, in the palest green blending to a richly colored forest green. They wore pumps to match the darker hues in their pretty frocks, and harmonizing hair bandeaux. Their bouquets were styled of bronze 'mums and Tailsman roses.

Robert Dyer was best man for the groom who is a graduate in medicine from the Edinburgh University. Dr. Norman Jacques and Dr. George Yamanaka ushered. H. P. Lupton was wedding organist. The newly married couple were piped from the church as they left for the reception aboard the SS Scammon where the parents of the bride assisted in receiving the guests. Mrs. Campbell was attractively attired in a gown of turquoise flowered tulle with matching colored hat and corsage of gardenias.

The bride's table, appointed in silver and covered with an heirloom linen cloth embroidered by the bride's grandmother, the late Mrs. A. C. Killins, was centred with a three-tier cake nesting in tulle and tiny pink rosebuds. Those serving during the refreshment hour were Mrs. F. O. Bowsfield, Miss Audrey Parmley, Miss Pat Parmley, Miss Maureen Pritchard, Miss Sandra McClean, Miss Margaret Read, Miss Glenda MacInnis, Miss Penny Gibson

The meeting, held at the home of Mr. H. H. Boyle, Skaha Lake, ended with a special vote of appreciation to the hostess for her hospitality.

Marguerite Barraud, Clark Stovel United In Pretty Ceremony

SUMMERLAND—Many friends in the south Okanagan will be interested in the marriage of Miss Marguerite Barraud, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barraud of Salmon Arm which took place recently in the United Church at Salmon Arm to Clark Stovel of Revelstoke.

Mrs. Bruce Blagborne of Summerland was the matron of honor and Miss Iris Hill and Miss Lillian Barraud, sister of the bride, were the bridesmaids. The best man was Paul Salva. At the reception in the Women's Institute Hall there were 150 guests.

The couple will make their home in Revelstoke. The bride taught in Summerland high school for three years and was a Ranger leader here for two years.

and Miss Jane White. H. D. Pritchard was master of ceremonies and the toast to the bride was proposed by Alderman P. E. Pauls.

The bride, who is a graduate from St. Paul's School of Nursing, class '57, was charming in a sea green autumn wool suit with bronze feathered hat, when the young couple left on a honeymoon trip to points in the States. They will take up residence at North Burnaby on their return.

Among out of town guests were Mrs. K. D. Finlayson, Buena Park, California; Mrs. R. H. Phillips, Dr. George Yamanaka, Dr.

and Mrs. James Campbell, Dr. M. Seraglia, Dr. Norman Jacques, Miss Agnes Leret, Miss Sandra McClean, Miss Margaret Read, Miss Flora Starcevic, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bailey, all from Vancouver; Miss Vi Starcevic, Victoria; Dr. and Mrs. F. ## SPORTS DIARY

The 1st annual Old-Timers' baseball classic, besides being a success on the field, was a huge financial success.

Figures released last night by Andy Bennie, Penticton Recreation Commission chairman, show that the game realized a net profit of $317. This amount has been turned over to the Penticton Senior Baseball Club (see picture alongside) to help defray losses suffered by them during the past season.

One more good reason why the game should become an annual affair as has been planned. Everything about the game was even more successful than had been hoped. Let's hope that the game continues as an annual affair and doesn't die a slow death. It's a worthwhile project. We sincerely hope it keeps getting bigger and better with each passing baseball season.

In addition to the money turned over to the baseball club, the Recreation Commission last night made a grant to the Penticton basketball clubs. The grant has put the clubs back in the black and will enable them to start the season with a $50 backlog to fall back on.

Last week the Vernon Hockey Club decided to junk their co-op system of running the team as it has existed for the past couple of seasons.

After giving the system a thorough trial, the Canadians have decided that it doesn't work. As a result, the franchise is being handed back to the citizens of Vernon.

Forty "public-minded" citizens, each with $100, will help launch the Canadians this season. The club executive will be chosen from among these forty.

Vernon coach George Agar blamed rising costs and the need for ready cash as the reasons for making the change. He placed the cost of getting operations started for the 1958-59 season at $4,000. Present wealth of the club consists of about $1,500 worth of equipment.

Figures on last year's operations showed that 36,235 fans attended Canuck home games last season. Net gate receipts amounted to $31,000, of which $9,100 had been paid out in arena rental. Players' wages cost the club $22,000 and equipment another $1,500.

Program sales and a bank balance of $2,500 had enabled the club to stay in the black on the year's operations. So far, the club has found 22 people willing to put up $100 to finance the plan. Eighteen more names are still needed.

The B.C. Lions, their WIFU playoff aspirations at ceiling a six-game losing streak.

Ed Sharkey, linebacker, guard and centre with the club and an offensive and defensive league all-star last season, has been lost to the club for the rest of the 1958 campaign. Sharkey is suffering from a pinched nerve in his shoulder. One report says the injury is so bad that it virtually paralyzed one of Sharkey's arms.

Much-ballyhooed new recruit Len Mansfield, picked up by the Lions when he was cut by the Philadelphia Eagles of the NFL last week, was released by the club yesterday. He took part in only two practices before being given his ticket home.

After hearing so much about the value of players cut from the NFL, then seeing the Lions get one and then turn him loose before he appeared in a single game, makes us wonder what is going on in the Lions' den.

Drive Nets Huge Crowd But Tribe Still Beaten

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

That "back-the-Indians" drive paid off with a crowd of 50,021 and a touch of irony at Cleveland Wednesday night.

It was the Tribe's largest night game draw since 1954, the last year they won the American League pennant. But the Indians came through with the same sort of play that has kept the folks away ever since, losing 8-3 to New York Yankees. Two of their runs were unearned, and the third was hustled home on three walks and a hit batsman.

The crowd was attracted by fireworks, music, entertainment, prizes and a chance to see the Yankees, who had lost four of their last five games, reduce their magic number to five.

WIDEN GAP
Chicago White Sox, with nothing else to shoot for, padded their second-place edge over Boston to 2½ games by beating the Red Sox 7-2. Washington knocked off Detroit 5-4 and Kansas City defeated Baltimore 4-2.

The Indians had seven hits, all singles off rookie Jack Monroe (4-1), who was relieved by Ryno Duren and Art Ditmar. Elston Howard, Tony Kubek and Hank Bauer each drove in two runs for the Yankees as Don Mossi lost his eighth in 15 decisions.

Southpaw Billy Pierce allowed eight hits and won his 16th for the White Sox, his 150th victory in the majors. He also counted his 11500th career strikeout, fanning leadoff man Don Buddin. The White Sox broke a 2-all tie with five runs in the eighth off reliever Murray Wall (7-9).

The three appeal judges, Chief Justice A. C. Des Brisay and Justice J. M. Coady and F. A. Sheppard, reserved their decision on Olmstead's appeal for quashing of the jail term.

Senator J. W. Farris, appearing for the hockey player, asked the judges to impose a moderate fine instead.

ASSAULTED AT BANQUET
The 31-year-old forward, formerly with Montreal Canadiens but traded in the off-season to Toronto Maple Leafs, was convicted and sentenced by Magistrate N. J. Bartman for assaulting Ralph D. Rooney of West Vancouver at a Vancouver Typing-shooting Association banquet this summer.

The magistrate called the assault "an unprovoked and vicious attack on a defenceless man for nothing."

Doctors testified at the trial that Rooney suffered face and body injuries as a result of the washroom fracas and had since been unable to sleep, restfully without sedation.

Senator Farris said Wednesday the beating was not unprovoked and that Rooney struck the first blow by hitting Olmstead in the stomach. He called Rooney's allegation that Olmstead struck

Bob Friend Gets 20th NL Triumph

Stuart's 10th-inning Homer Gives Pirate Star Decision

Bob Friend of the Pittsburgh Pirates Wednesday night became the first pitcher to win 20 games in the National League this year.

Friend, 27, had to go 10 innings to get it, beating San Francisco 6-4 on Dick Stuart's two-out, two-run homer. The Giants tagged him for a dozen hits and three walks. But Friend, with his mates getting only three hits over the last eight innings, left 11 on base and blanked the Giants on four singles over the last five frames.

Friend hadn't won more than 17 in one season before with the Pirates — but they had finished last or next to last since he joined them in 1951.

BRAVES BEAT REDS

The Bucs, who haven't won this high since 1944, now hold second place by 5½ games over the Giants with the three-game sweep but the Milwaukee Braves, 6½ games ahead, kept rolling toward a second straight pennant by beating Cincinnati 3-0 on Juan Pizarro's three-hitter.

St. Louis tied Cincinnati for fourth, beating the Chicago Cubs 3-1. Philadelphia knocked off Los Angeles 8-6.

Friend had a 4-1 lead after two innings. But it slipped away on Daryl Spencer's two-run homer in the third and Orlando Cepeda's sacrifice fly in the fifth. Stuart's homer, his 15th, followed a two-out single by Roberto Clemente off loser Marv Grissom (7-5).

FIRST SHUTOUT

Pizarro (6-2), a 21-year-old southpaw, gave up only a pair of singles by Pete Whisnand and Johnny Temple's double while gaining his first major league shutout. The Braves beat Bob Purkey (16-10) while reducing their magic number to eight and eliminating the Reds officially.

A pair of errors helped the Cards in a winning, two-run fifth while Wilmer Mizell (10-11) breezed with a four-hitter. The Cubs scored in the eighth on a scoring single by Walt Moryn, who had half their hits. Taylor Phillips (7-9) was the loser.

The Phils scored seven runs, three unearned, in three innings against loser Don Drysdale (11-13). Robin Roberts (15-13) won it.

Day Says "Peg" Refused Four Good Players

WINNIPEG (CP) — Clarence Hap Day, former general manager of Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League, said Wednesday that if the manager of the Winnipeg Warriors hockey club had been more experienced he would have snapped up several players offered him in the 1956-57 season.

Day was testifying for the defence in a damage action by Warriors of the Western Hockey League for $125,000 from Leafs and Montreal Canadiens.

The court also was told both NHL clubs had dropped counter-claims for $25,000 each against Warriors.

Day said Warriors were offered good players — Gerry Jarmour, four good players — Gerry James and Bill Harris on one occasion, and later Ken Hayden and Ed Slowinski.

He said that each time John Perrin, Warrior general manager, wanted time to discuss the men offered with Winnipeg coach Alf Pike.

"In my opinion if Mr. Perrin had been a more experienced hockey manager, he would have taken these players as fast as they were offered," Day said.

Warriors are claiming $125,000 damages and repayment of $12,621 on the grounds the two NHL clubs did not live up to an agreement to supply players of WHL calibre to the Winnipeg club during the 1956-57 season. Warriors finished last last season.

16,000,000 TONS OF ORE

The total tonnage of nickel-copper ore produced at International Nickel's mines in the Sudbury District of Ontario exceeded 16,000,000 tons in 1957 — a new high record. Of this amount, almost 15,000,000 tons came from underground mines.

"CARRIED AWAY"
He said Magistrate Bartman was "carried away with the extravagant descriptions of blood and pulp on the man's face" given in the police court.

Senator Farris introduced a number of letters including some from nationally prominent figures, testifying to Olmstead's good character.

N. R. Crump, CPR president, called him a "clean-cut young man not known to be a fighter."

NHL President Clarence Campbell said Olmstead always enjoyed the highest reputation for good character and conduct both on and off the ice.

Mr. Farris said that if the penalty were to be changed, that a fine in excess of $500 "any $1,000" would not be out of line.

Hanson Still In Running in Amateur Golf

SAN FRANCISCO (CP) — When the U.S. amateur golf championships began last Monday Toronto's Eric Hanson was rated to better than third among the five Canadians entered.

Gary Cowan of Kitchener, Ont., was considered the top Canadian hope after an impressive performance in last week's American Cup international competition.

Canadian amateur champion Bruce Cnator of Toronto was figured to have the next best chance.

Cowan, however, lost out in the Williams, Boston 562 71 115 318 first round and Cnator was eliminated Wednesday in the third round.

Hanson, runner-up to Cnator in the Canadian amateur at Toronto in July, is still in the running, the only Canadian survivor.

Today he has probably his toughest match, meeting Dr. Frank (Bud) Taylor, the 41-year-old Pomona, Calif., dentist who lost in last year's U.S. amateur final to Hillman Robbins.

Robbins was eliminated Wednesday, leaving two-time winner Harvie Ward the favorite.

To Restore Bonus Rule

CHICAGO (AP) — The major leagues agreed Tuesday to restore a bonus rule, recommended the revision of the player draft laws and set up machinery for realignment of the minor leagues.

They also gave the problem of radio-TV coverage of ball games a thorough airing but did nothing about expansion.

Recognizing that bonus bidding is getting out of hand and that the minor leagues need help, the big leagues, at their joint session, decided to take action toward alleviating this twin problem.

A nine-man committee was appointed to study the feasibility of a new bonus rule and to submit a plan at the December meeting in Washington.

Cleveland general manager Frank Lane, chairman of the bonus committee, said at least 10 plans already have been proposed. He personally is in favor of what he calls "an incentive plan," a step-by-step bonus arrangement with a 20-year ceiling.

TURN THUMBS DOWN ON AL EXPANSION

Officials of the American League hold animated discussion during league meeting in Chicago. From left are: Del Webb, co-owner of the New York Yankees; John Rigney, vice-pres. of Chicago White Sox, and Will Harridge, pres. of the American League. Two-day meeting unanimously opposed possible expansion of the league. They also discussed problems of telecasting major league games to minor league areas.

JUNIOR LACROSSE FINAL

Crowd Will Decide Series Site Switch

By VERN SIMALUK
Canadian Press Correspondent
TRAIL, B.C. (CP) — The questions to be solved here tonight are who will win the second game of the Minto Cup series between Brampton Excelsiors and Victoria Shamrocks, and will enough fans turn up to keep the best-of-seven Canadian junior lacrosse championship series in this Kootenay centre of 15,000?

At the opening game Tuesday won by Brampton 7-6, only 700 fans were on hand. This means

1,300 will have to take in tonight's game to reach the minimum of 2,000 total for the first two games established by the Canadian Amateur Lacrosse Association.

Doug Fletcher of Victoria will telephone his report to the CALA following the game tonight. If the total is not met the CALA may make Victoria the venue for the rest of the series, starting Monday.

"The junior series was first put here as a promotion to revive lacrosse interest in this district," Fletcher said Wednesday. "The CALA is willing to take quite a loss before moving the series away."

SOME ENCOURAGEMENT
Even though Trail fans are pro-Victoria, Brampton prefers to have the series played here. One Excelsior source said: "Here we get a sprinkling of encouragement while in Victoria we would be the lowly villains."

In preparation for the game tonight, both clubs ran through full dress practices Wednesday. Rocks stressed offensive movement, with shots from just outside the free-throw line coming in for special instruction.

"We were trying to get in too close Tuesday night for our shots," said Bradshaw. "You have a good chance of scoring from out here."

Excels laid the wood on in their checking during practice, dropping hints that their strong cross-checking game which was missing in the opener will appear tonight. Tuesday night Excelsiors' checking was a cautious movement as they tested out the difference in rule interpretations between the East and West.

Commenting on the first game, Brampton coach George Thompson said: "The game went much the way we thought it would. It was a touch-and-go affair and one break could have made the difference."

Has-Been Provides Big Tennis Upset

TORONTO (CP) — A so-called "has-been" provided one of the upsets in the second round of the international invitation tennis tournament Wednesday.

Mulloy, 45, a big favorite with the gallery, took a three-set win from 24-year-old Whitney Reed of Alameda, Calif., 5-7, 8-6, 6-3. Canada's bright hope in the tennis world, Bob Bedard of Sherbrooke, Que., whipped internationally-ranked Ulf Schmidt of Sweden 6-1, 6-2.

The third upset was provided by unranked Billy Knight of England who toppled fourth-ranked Kurt Nielsen of Denmark 3-6, 6-3, 6-1.

Otherwise, the week-long tournament at the Toronto Lawn Tennis Club went pretty much according to seedings, with Australian whiz Mal Anderson stroking past Eddie Moylan 6-1, 6-3. Anderson is first-seeded in the competition that has attracted top tennis stars from 10 countries.

LeBaron Key To Redskin Grid Hopes

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP) — Eight years ago they called the half-pint from College of the Pacific a runt who could never make the grade in pro football.

After a while the skeptics admitted they were a bit hasty, that maybe Edward Wayne LeBaron Jr. did have possibilities.

Some still have doubts—mostly those who have never seen heady Eddie perform magic with a football. If they need convincing, let them listen to coach Joe Kuharich of the Washington Redskins.

"Finest quarterback in the league," says Kuharich. LeBaron at 165 pounds is the smallest article in the pro game, but no Redskins weighs more in figuring Washington's chances for an eastern division title in the upcoming national football league schedule.

Kuharich sheds his normal reserve in touring the former Calgary Stampeder for "execution, play calling, ball handling, passing and ability to size up a situation."

LeBaron ranked second among NFL passers last season on the basis of average yards gained.

Crawford Puts Art Student On Canvas

CHICAGO (AP) — Art student Mickey Crawford, fourth-ranking welterweight contender, got him self put on canvas Wednesday night—but it wasn't a self portrait.

Tiger Jones, who has spoiled many a youngster's hopes, decked Crawford twice with rights and the fight was stopped in 1:04 of the 10th round.

Crawford, 24, was six pounds overweight at 154 and apparently this excess baggage made him sluggish. Jones pumped shots at him nearly at will, chasing him around the ring in every round in what undoubtedly was the most road-work the 30-year-old veteran has had for some time.

Fullmer-Webb Scrap to Go On Schedule

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Promoter Joe Dupler won a reluctant decision Wednesday and the middleweight scrap between Gene Fullmer and Spider Webb of Chicago will be staged on schedule here tonight.

A last-minute squabble over two judges threatened for a time to cancel the fight. But Dupler said two outside officials would be brought in. He said their identity would not be disclosed until fight time.

Harvey Kessler of St. Louis will referee the 10-round, non-televised bout. There also will be no radio broadcast.

Fullmer's manager, Marv Jensen, had wanted two Utah officials to judge the fight. Webb's manager, Hector Knowles, had held out for one Utah judge and one Idaho judge.

Fullmer, the No. 2 middleweight contender, has a 49-4 record. Webb is ranked fourth by Ring Magazine and seventh by the National Boxing Association. He has won three straight and has a 29-3 record.

Teddy Member Of "Beat the Champs" Club

NEW YORK — The new game is called "beat the champs" and six major league pitchers, led by Frank Lary of the Detroit Tigers, are in on the fun.

The six have a total of 22 victories and only three defeats against the champion Milwaukee Braves and New York Yankees with the end not yet in sight.

The other villains, as far as the champs are concerned, are rookie Ted Bowsfield of the Red Sox, Ray Moore of the White Sox, Cal McLish of the Indians, Don Drysdale of the Los Angeles Dodgers and Bob Friend of the Pirates.

Most of them are strictly so-so against other clubs in their league.

It is estimated that over $100,000,000 will be spent in 1958 by anglers throughout the United States for fresh and salt water fishing tackle. Almost one-third of this—$30,000,000—will be spent for leaders, swivels, lures and spinners, with a good proportion being made of Monel nickel-copper alloy to insure them against rusting.

Edmonton Man To Buy Lions?

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Province says an offer to purchase the B.C. Lions football club was made Wednesday by Ken Montgomery, a prominent Edmonton businessman.

The article says the offer was made in an informal meeting with Lions president Harry Spring.

Montgomery, a past president of the Canadian Rugby Union, the Western Interprovincial Football Union, and the Edmonton Eskimos, made the offer on behalf of a five-man syndicate of businessmen from across Canada, the story said.

Battle Rages Over Use of Hockey Arena

OLYMPIA (AP) — The controversy surrounding use of the Spokane Coliseum by two hockey clubs has reached the Washington State Supreme Court.

Chief Justice Matthew W. Hill Tuesday directed Spokane County Court Judge Thomas G. Jordan to forward all records in the case to Olympia Oct. 3 for review by the high court or to show cause why he should not forward the records.

The coliseum was used by one of the hockey teams last season. The other, new this year, obtained a writ from Court directing the city to let it use the coliseum.

City council, in appealing the order, claimed the court had exceeded its authority in granting the writ, that it had made an administrative decision.

The council further maintained, if both teams used the coliseum, such a heavy use for hockey would seriously impair its use for dramatics, musicals, sports and other events, thereby reducing revenue to the city.

Owen Says Give Whistles to All Officials

HAMILTON (CP) — A big football coach Wednesday said all officials on the field should be equipped with whistles.

Steve Owen, Toronto Argonaut defensive coach, told the Hamilton Tiger-Cat Quarterback Club: "Don't get me wrong, I'm not trying to change the rules."

But he added: "It's not fair for some players to get penalties because they didn't hear the referee blow the whistle some 40 yards away."

He said each official in the United States National Football League has a whistle.

Why is the printed word so important in advertising?

ANSWER: THE DAILY NEWSPAPER IS THE GREATEST ADVERTISING MEDIUM for many reasons. One of them is that it carries the power of the printed word. People believe in a message that is permanent; one that is written. They understand it better. Also, the newspaper because of its permanence lets the reader choose his own time for absorbing the message. And once put down it can always be picked up again. The message that lives is the message that is written in the newspaper.

INCO STRIKE VOTE FRIDAY

Labor Strife Hangs Heavy Over Ontario

TORONTO (CP)—About 15,000 employees of the International Nickel Company have decided to hold a strike vote Friday, casting a deeper shadow over Ontario's already dark labor scene.

Nearly 10,000 other workers already are on strike in the province. The Inco dispute—at plants in Sudbury and Port Colborne—grew worse Wednesday as signs of settlements appeared in the province's beer strike and the threatened walkout of Toronto's 3,500 outside civic employees.

Mass meetings of Inco employees Wednesday night rejected a conciliation board report that turned aside their demands for a 10-per-cent pay increase.

The workers, members of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (Ind.) now get an average composite of $2.69 an hour. The company has offered to pay the same amount for another year.

BEER SCENE BRIGHTENS
Wages now are the issue in the beer strike, too.

Thorny non-monetary issues were reported settled by Labor Minister Daley of Ontario Wednesday and Brewers' Warehousing Company began canvassing hotels and taverns for orders.

Monetary talks were to continue today with brewery spokesmen attending in hopes of reaching an industry-wide settlement. Demands of brewery workers vary from company to company while the 1,200 striking distributors' employees want increases of $9 to $14 a week. They have been offered 2.40 this year and the same amount next.

The average salary of members of the United Brewery Workers of America (U.B.W.) is $80 a week throughout the industry.

There appeared to be little progress at Hamilton in negotiations to end the strike at the Steel Company of Canada plant that began five weeks ago. Company spokesmen and representatives of the United Steelworkers of America (U.S.W.) still restricting talks to non-monetary issues.

SEEK PACKAGE RAISE
Still dividing negotiators was the union's demand for a package increase of 33 cents an hour over the $2.30 hourly average. The company has offered a five-

Frank Sinatra in Demand as Actor

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Frank Sinatra is so busy with movie-making that he won't have time to collect a million dollars from TV this season.

"I'll be busy making movies for a year solid," he says. "And I can only hit one pitch at a time."

He said his ABC-TV contract, which calls for $3,000,000 in three years, will be extended a year.

Frank recently returned from the Madison, Ind., location of Some Came Running. Despite published reports to the contrary, Frank says he enjoyed Madison. "It's a nice town with nice people," he said.

And Don Wallis, business manager of the Madison Courier, says the feeling was mutual among the townspeople.

MOST ENJOYED STAY
"There were a few gripes,"

Wallis said, "but 99 per cent of the people enjoyed the stay of the movie company."

Frank admitted there was a verbal beef with a hotel clerk over some hamburgers.

"Leo Durocher, my guest, ordered the hamburgers but all he got was insults from the clerk," Frank said. "I blew my top a little — who wouldn't? — but I never laid a glove on the guy."

Another report had Frank traversing the town streets illegally with drink in hand. One crew member, however, explained how that story got started.

"We were shooting a scene near a bar," the man said, "and it was really hot. When Frank got a break he went into the bar, ordered a cool beer for himself and bought a round for the house."

The director then called him back to work and he walked out, finishing his beer on the run. And that's the truth."

BUSIEST IN TOWN
If there's any doubt that Sinatra is the most in-demand actor in town, look at this schedule.

After a few more weeks on Some Came Running, Frank's Hobart Productions go to Florida to make All My Tomorrows, the movie version of the Broadway hit A Hole in the Head.

That picture will be followed — if Frank can work it in — by his annual four-week stint at the Sands Hotel in Las Vegas, where Sinatra is part owner.

He next may make a movie of the Broadway musical Can Can and then Paris by Night, with Brigitte Bardot.

Frank believes that by the 1959-60 season he'll be able to do TV again.

Opening lead — nine of clubs.

You don't find much written in books about the role good temperament plays at the bridge table. But the player who gets upset because he just had an unlucky break, or made some horrible mistake, or worse yet, because his partner did something dreadful, is certainly not doing himself any good if he allows the incident to effect his subsequent play.

Here is a hand where a cool head would do wonders in over-coming an exceptionally lead break. North jumped to six no-trump simply on the basis of point count. With 12 points facing a 22-24 point two notrump bid, the contract looked like a breeze.

Tomorrow: Responding to partner's bid after an overcall.

Britain Starts First Major Innovation in Road Building

LONDON (AP) — Britain has started her first major innovation in road building since the Romans gave the island a highway system almost 2,000 years ago.

They're now building the first major multi-lane superhighway—a 71-mile, almost dead straight ribbon of road linking London with the industrial Midlands.

It starts near Watford, on the outer northwest fringe of London, and will bypass towns and villages, carve across green farmland, running without hills and without bends to west of Rugby in Warwickshire.

It will also be the first really big all-British road, because many of the highways crisscrossing England are built the four-lane Roman way.

The Romans built roads as straight as the terrain allowed, and they built them well. But the trouble now is: Many of England's main roads are much too narrow. They widen for a few miles into fast multi-lane bands of concrete, then narrow quickly into the frustrating bustle of a village or traffic-packed market town.

The new road, due for completion in October 1959, will cut out the bottlenecks. It will trim an hour from the London-Midlands journey.

LAWYER PLEADS FOR

World Peace Through Law

By KARL R. BAUMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court tackles today the issue of how fast public school integration must move ahead.

The precise legal issue is a narrow one—whether a plan of integration, once in operation, may be suspended lawfully because of popular opposition to it. But the impact of the court's ruling is certain to be far reaching. Specifically, the court will determine whether Little Rock Central High School in Arkansas must readmit Negro students, whose attendance there last year brought on violence and the subsequent use of troops.

TO SERVE AS GUIDE

But the decision, whatever it is, will throw out guidelines to federal judges grappling elsewhere with applying the court's 1955 command for "all deliberate speed" in integrating schools.

There was no indication how soon the Supreme Court will rule, but a decision is expected by the weekend. The Little Rock school is scheduled to open Monday, and the court called its second extraordinary session in two weeks to hear the case in advance of that time.

The new litigation started earlier this summer, when federal Judge Harry J. Lemley granted a 2½-year suspension of court-ordered integration at Little Rock.

On Aug. 18, the Court of Appeals at St. Louis reversed Lemley's order, but later granted a stay to permit appeal.

Since the Appeals Court acted, however, the Arkansas legislature has passed legislation to permit the state governor to close any school that might be forced into integration.

"CHAOS, BEDLAM. . ."

WORLD BRIEFS

OPEN CANADA HOUSE

TORONTO (CP)—Canada House, New York's latest multi-million dollar skyscraper, will be opened officially Sept. 30 and Oct. 1. Federal and Ontario government offices occupy 11 per cent of rentable space in the 26-story block, which has been built by a Canadian business group as a centre for Canadian offices in the city.

ARTS GROUP TO MEET
QUEBEC (CP)—The Canadian Arts Conference formerly called the Canadian Arts Council, will hold its 13th annual convention here Sept. 12-14. Some 100 delegates representing 22 societies of artists and authors are expected.

HAD INADEQUATE VALVE
TORONTO (CP)—A coroner's jury decided Wednesday night a boiler which blew up in a north Toronto apartment building last June, killing the caretaker and wrecking the structure, was equipped with an inadequate safety valve. Caretaker John Armstrong was crushed in his basement apartment when the boiler shattered.

URGES RIGHT TO WORK
DETROIT (CP)—Right-to-work legislation for ex-convicts was suggested Wednesday by an Ontario rehabilitation worker. A. M. Kirkpatrick of Toronto, president of the International Prisoners Aid Association, told the association's annual meeting that use of prison records for employment purposes should be outlawed as discriminatory.

DEPORT REDS
MEXICO CITY (AP)—Foreign-born Communists are being rounded up and deported in what some say is the largest mass deportation of Reds ever ordered in Mexico. Several are wealthy U.S. citizens who fled here from the United States to escape congressional questioning and are accused of contributing financial support to recent disorders, informants said.

Supreme Court Tackles School Integration Issue

By GERRY MARTIN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP) — A plea for world peace through rule of law was made Wednesday night by Charles S. Rhyne of Washington, D.C., in a speech to the Canadian Bar Association.

Mr. Rhyne, past president of the American Bar Association, said:

"Mutual distrust, with its propaganda barges and this situation of a world divided into two might armed camps, is the number one problem of our day."

"Against this almost terrifying picture of the world today, I suggest to you that law, which has brought order and peace within nations, can—if but given the opportunity—do the same between

Trade Conference To Study Unified Research Scheme

TORONTO (CP) — Lord Hailsham says the British delegation to the forthcoming Commonwealth economic conference in Montreal will probably propose a unified research scheme, with older countries helping young ones.

He said in an interview Wednesday night: "The future lies with research and education, but primarily with research. It is the pioneering work of science which is going to carry people along."

Lord Hailsham, lord president of the council and chairman of the British Conservative party, is in Toronto to address the Canadian Bar Association's annual convention Friday.

"There is absolutely no reason why the undoubtedly excellent research facilities in Canada, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa cannot equally be brought into use."

When you send a research team into a country in this way you do two things. First, you enlarge your own knowledge, which is always valuable. Secondly, a country sending such a team inevitably builds relations which will later bring about a share of the trade made available by the development."

"We say the time has not yet come in these United States when an order of a federal court must be whittled away, watered down, or shamefully withdrawn in the face of violent and unlawful acts of individual citizens."

nations."

MOST UNKNOWN COURT

Mr. Rhyne called the International Court of Justice the most unknown court in the world and the most unused instrument for peace that mankind possesses.

"To enable law to contribute its potential service for the benefit of mankind, by achieving and maintaining world peace, this court must be expanded into many courts. We must have a world court system with a trial court branch in each nation — with the international court of justice serving as the court of last resort for the world community."

"I sincerely believe that our task as lawyers is to see to it that the time of the idea of the rule of law as a decider of disputes between nations arrives before the holocaust of nuclear extinction overtakes mankind."

Earlier, appointment of judges and Queen's Counsel on the basis of political patronage was criticized by a panel of lawyers.

Chairman Gordon W. Ford of Toronto asked the five-man panel whether they approved cabinet appointment of judges.

E. C. Leslie of Regina said he is convinced the calibre of appointments would be improved if only the justice minister made them.

"I am shocked by the number of lawyers who approach their members of Parliament and others, trying to get such appointments," Mr. Leslie added.

Gilbert D. Kennedy of Victoria, assistant attorney-general of British Columbia, said the honor of appointment as a QC is dying out in his province because only five appointments are made each year.

"It's dying in Saskatchewan for just the opposite reason," said Mr. Leslie. "There are too many QCs."

"It's dying in Ontario, too," said Isadore Levintov of Toronto. "There are so many it's almost a distinction to be a lawyer without a QC."

Newfoundland Legislature Prorogues

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Only one problem remained unsettled as the Newfoundland legislature prorogued Wednesday. How much money will the province receive from the federal government as a result of recommendations made by the McNair royal commission?

Lieutenant-Governor Campbell McPherson said in his throne speech:

"My ministers have welcomed the decision of the Government of Canada . . . not to accept those recommendations until further study has been given them."

The commission, termed a total loss by Premier Smallwood, recommended that the province receive $8,000,000 a year to keep public services at their present level. Regular transitional grants would be subtracted from the payments giving the province at least $13,000,000 if the recommendations are carried out.

NEED $15,000,000
The provincial government hopes Parliament will boost the amount. Newfoundland told the commission it would need $15,000,000 to keep services at their present "low level."

The government hoped Parliament would advance the $13,000,000 needed chiefly to pay for summer public service projects.

Perhaps the most disappointed man was Finance Minister Spencer. He had included the elusive $13,000,000 in his budget. To overcome this, the legislature passed a bill which now enables the province to float a $14,000,000 bond issue.

There are 32 Liberals and four Progressive Conservatives in the 36-seat House.

The legislature opened in January and adjourned Feb. 21 for six months. At that time the lieutenant-governor gave royal assent to a bill which would allow Crown Zellerbach of San Francisco to explore Crown lands with a view to establishing a newsprint plant and a chemical pulp mill.

If the company decided to build the plants the Newfoundland government expects to receive $1-250,000 annually in rental and stumpage charges. The premier has estimated they will also provide jobs for about 9,000 Newfoundlanders.

Personal savings deposits in all chartered banks in Canada totalled over $6,100,000,000.

Commission On Economic Issues Urged

TORONTO (CP) — A former assistant attorney-general of the United States today suggested his country establish a commission to deal with economic problems of interest to Canada and the U.S.

The proposal came from Norman M. Littell of Washington, D.C., during a panel discussion at the annual meeting of the Canadian Bar Association.

Mr. Littell also listed a set of rules for U.S. businessmen with Canadian operations, based on the promise their plants are "a part of Canada, not the United States."

The Washington lawyer said the commission on international economic matters should have such powers that the U.S. federal tariff commission could make no decision affecting Canadian relations without the special commission considering its effect on Canada's economy.
